2018 CUMULATIVE GIFTS

Founded in 1994, the Society has become an important financial resource to the Communion and a valuable aid in communicating the news of the work which maintains and improves unity in the Communion. Since its inception, the Society has given $10.6 million (USD) to support the Communion. The Society's beneficiaries for 2017 and its cumulative donations are listed inside. Members' initial and annual sustaining gifts make these donations possible. The Society's membership requirements and benefits are on the reverse side.

About Membership

IN THE COMPASS ROSE SOCIETY

The Compass Rose Society's objective is to donate $400,000 (USD) yearly to the Anglican Consultative Council. To achieve this, new members join the Society with an initial gift of $10,000 (USD) and subsequently donate $2,500 (USD) - $3,000 annually to sustain their membership. Some individuals, parishes and dioceses form groups - we call them chapters - to raise the initial gift. The chapter collectively gives the annual gift as well. In addition, Society members often donate to projects throughout the Communion that they favor. The Society accepts gifts of cash, stock or other securities.

We meet annually in the UK. In addition to a business session featuring prominent speakers from the Communion, the members attending meet with the Archbishop of Canterbury for a group audience, dinner, and worship. Up to two guests may accompany an individual member or couple to the annual meeting and program with the Archbishop of Canterbury; up to four chapter members may attend; the rector, one guest and two parish members may attend from a member parish; the bishop, a guest, and two others may attend from a member diocese. Society members can register for Communion Visits and Study Trips and each receives subscriptions to the Society's newsletter The Compass Rose Communicator and Anglican World magazine.
